A note from Breen Masciotra, Board President

We are excited to formally announce a few big changes at MWCDC. After five successful Emerald Trail Corps (ETC) seasons and over a year of planning, MWCDC is spinning off the ETC to become an independent organization. Every year since 2013, the ETC has been asked to help partner organizations to construct trails on land outside of Emerald View Park. We are very proud of the work our crews have done and our role in developing this exceptional model, and recognize that the ETC is capable of filling a significant land stewardship and workforce development role in our region that goes beyond the boundaries of Mount Washington. As a result, through conversations with our partners, Allegheny Land Trust, GTECH Strategies, Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy, and PGH Works, we are untying the apron strings in order to empower the program to reach its full potential as an organization that will exist outside of MWCDC. We will be inviting the crews in their new iteration to continue working in Emerald View Park this summer to continue the mission of MWCDC: to cultivate growth, development and investment in Mount Washington and Duquesne Heights.

The transition is bittersweet, as Ilyssa Manspeizer will be leaving her role with MWCDC to take over leadership of this new organization. We are grateful to Ilyssa for her nine years of service to the community, during which she demonstrated leadership and advanced neighborhood progress. We are also excited to see where her next steps will lead her. Throughout the transition period, our very talented Directors of Economic Development and Park Development, Laura Guralnick and Kathryn Hunninen, will share the executive director duties while the Board explores options for the organization’s next steps.

Yours truly,

Letter from Ilyssa Manspeizer, former Executive Director

When I started working at the MWCDC as the first Park Manager, exactly nine years ago, just about every time I got in my car to leave work, I would head down Natchez Street thinking it should get me quickly and directly to Virginia Avenue. But I was new to Pittsburgh. What did I know?

As I reflect back on these nine years, the metaphor is clear - I joined the MWCDC certain of the path I would take to a defined point the incremental creation of a beloved park that embraces Mount Washington. What I was to discover is that there are no straight roads in Mount Washington, and where you wind up is not necessarily where you thought you would be; but the destination is always grand. While I am deeply grateful that I got to lead the effort to create and develop Emerald View Park, I did not expect to have also had the honor of serving as the organization’s Executive Director.

Through every twist, turn or hazard in the road, I never travelled alone. The professionalism and compassion of my colleagues at the MWCDC, the vision of our Board members, the commitment of committee members, the dedication of our elected leaders and government employees, the examples set by our funders, supporters and nonprofit partners, and the tens of thousands of volunteer hours I have witnessed have shown me a route I never could have imagined alone. The power of community, warts and all, has inspired me every step of the way.

Thank you for the trust you have placed in me, thank you for the work we’ve done together, thank you for caring so deeply about the place in which you live and the success of this organization. I have learned so much in the last nine years about how communities work, about the functioning of nonprofits, about greening our world, and about the potential of human capacity. If I have been able to leave behind onetenth of the good things I will take with me, then I can leave feeling proud. No matter what, in my heart, I will always carry a piece of Mount Washington and the people who call this place home.

Yours,

Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh are putting out a county-wide call for volunteers to help our elderly and residents with disabilities stay safe this winter through the Allegheny Snow Angels program. Snow Angels is a program that helps minimize the hardships of winter by pairing volunteers with elderly or disabled residents to assist with snow removal. Snow covered sidewalks can be hazardous for everyone. Along with fostering stronger community relationships, and relieving some of the stress that comes from a snow storm, Snow Angels makes our sidewalks safer for those who continue to serve despite the winter weather – like postal service workers, firemen, and police officers.

To be matched with a Snow Angel and receive assistance, residents must have a physical disability OR be age 60 or older. In addition, residents must lack alternative snow removal resources and reside within Allegheny County.

This volunteer opportunity is open to anyone living in Allegheny County, and is great for families and high school students. Volunteers are asked to help at least one resident for the entire winter season. Shovels and salt are available by request. To register as a recipient or volunteer, call 412-863-5939 or 3-1-1; visit http://alleghenysnowangels.org/; or email manager@alleghenysnowangels.org.
EMERALD TRAIL CORPS TO BE MODEL FOR CITY-WIDE EFFORT

In 2011 the Mount Washington Community Development Corporation (MWCDC) created the Emerald Trail Corps (ETC). Since then, 44 adults were hired and trained in trail construction and habitat restoration to help develop Emerald View Park, building nearly 10 miles of trails, restoring acres of woodland, and planting dozens of trees, all while building their personal capacity to find and keep jobs with family sustaining wages. The ETC was also hired by several other non-profits to assist in trail construction projects throughout the region, indicating a much greater need than in Emerald View Park alone. As a result, the MWCDC worked with Allegheny Land Trust, PGH Works, GTECH Strategies and the Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy to use the Emerald Trail Corps as a model to create a new Pittsburgh-wide initiative -- the Pittsburgh Conservation Corps (a working name).

The new initiative will kick off in January 2016, under the direction of the MWCDC’s most recent Executive Director, Ilyssa Manspeizer. In early 2016 Thomas Guentner, Emerald Trail Corps Program Manager, and Shawn Taylor, Emerald Trail Corps Crew Leader, will also leave the MWCDC to resume their positions with the new Corps. As the parent organization, the MWCDC will continue its relationship with the Corps, hosting Conservation Corps crews in Emerald View Park in 2016 to construct up to two miles of secondary trails, conduct habitat restoration activities, and maintain existing trails. Conservation Corps crews will also work on land stewarded by the MWCDC’s partner organizations in this initiative and several other organizations interested in hiring professional-level skilled crews for a variety of land stewardship needs from trail construction to tree planting to green infrastructure installation and maintenance.

According to Breen Masciotra, MWCDC Board President, “It is this kind of innovative programming that the MWCDC has become known for across the City. We are very proud that the work we have done to incubate this program will directly benefit many Pittsburgh neighborhoods for years to come.” For inquiries about 2016 work in Emerald View Park, please contact Kathryn Hunminen, Director, Park Development.

Southern Avenue Home to Strikeforce Karate Academy

Mount Washington has an abundance of small, successful businesses that cater to niche markets. On occasion, On the Mount will highlight these businesses. This edition is highlighting the Strikeforce Karate Academy, a karate, self-defense and kickboxing gym located at 22 Southern Avenue. This is a family owned and operated gym that just celebrated its 22nd year anniversary. All classes at Strikeforce are taught by the owner, Master Bill Kelly. Bill’s four children have all trained at Strikeforce. Master Kelly is highly decorated in the world of martial arts. As a competitor, he has won Competitor of the Year, National and State Champion in his respective Self Defense, Weapons, Kata and Kumite Divisions in the Professional Karate Commission (PKC). Moreover, he is the second adult in PKC’s history to win four National Titles in one season. The trophy lined gym has boasted honored guests such as Chuck Norris, Bill Wallace and Cynthia Rothrock. Master Kelly is truly a little known treasure in our neighborhood.

Located in the same storefront for the past twenty-two years, Bill has seen Mount Washington undergo a number of changes. Bill is dedicated to serving the community, in particular, the neighborhood youth, understanding the benefits of a quality martial arts education from first hand experience. He was a selfdescribed “wild child” that was “out of control” until being instilled with martial arts principles by his father’s best friend at a young age. Bill, a former Marine, teaches his students self-discipline, and to first respect themselves, family and friends, then to establish their own identity. His alumni have graduated from the West Point Military Academy, pursued careers in nursing, police enforcement and firefighting.

In his dedication to serve youth, Bill is willing to sacrifice financially for the community’s benefit. He currently offers two free weeks of youth lessons (up to six lessons). After the two weeks, Bill offers a three month membership for only $25 a month. This includes unlimited access to the gym during its operating hours. Discounted deals on first classes can also be arranged for adults interested in karate, self-defense or kickboxing classes.

Please look for more information about Master Kelly’s annual Mount Washington karate tournament happening in either February or March at the Ream Recreation Center. In addition, Bill is actively looking to rent his gym space to a kickboxing, Zumba or yoga instructor and is working to remodel his basement into a full service weight room. For more information please contact Bill at (412)508-4705 or masterk522@gmail.com.
